Double plays, force outs and hard hits straight at fielders were tough luck occurrences the New Yorks were forced to buck against, and against which they bucked pluckily but vainly A running eatch by Elberfeld was the individual play of the game to which most lustre attached. NEW YORK (N. L.), 10: ST. LOUIS, (N. L.), 5.

ST. LOUIS, July 8.—The New Yorks simply crushed the St. Louis Cardinals this afternoon. The reversal of form shown by the local aggregation has seldom been equalled. From nan McGinnity twirled for the visitors and Murphy performed for the Cardinals. While Eddie M. pitched good ball despite wildness at times, yet the support he received would have lost a game for the best twirler. Sins of omission and commission followed with bewildering profusion. In the eighth inning a free pass, hit by pitched ball and four errors netted the visitors a quartet of runs, the only hit made in this inning soing for naught.

a free pass, hit by pitched ball and four errors netted the visitors a quartet of runs, the only hit made in this imming soing for naught, as Bowerman was out in trying to steal third For three innings but nine men went to bat on either side.

In the fourth the visitors registered four runs of a free pass, two singles and as many errors: Two singles and an out netted the Cardinals their first tally, in the last half of the fourth. The flith was profitless to either side. In the sixth a single and a two-bagger scored another run for the visitors. In the seventh the Cardinals got their second run, Barclay driving to left for three bases and registering on Williams's out. The eighth inning gave the visitors four more runs, as told above. The Cardinals scored their third run in their half of the inning off two singles and an out. In the ninth Mertes batted out a home run, giving the visitors their tenth and last tally, while the Cardinals scored two runs in their half off a single, a double and an out to deep left. And so ended the game.

PITTSBURG, 5; BROOKLYN, 0.

PITTSBURG, July 8.—Kennedy shut Brooklyn out to-day, allowing the Superbast two little hits. He gave six bases on balls, and but for this not a Brooklyn runner would have passed first base. Kennedy also led the locals in stick work, getting a double and two singles out of four times up.

A fine fleet of yachts started yesterday in the open regatta of the Larchmont Yacht Club, and in every class there was rattling good sport. Early in the morning there was a flat calm on the Sound and the start was delayed half an hour, but by noon a light breeze struck in from the west and it soon afterward backed to the west southwest and remained true the rest of the day.

then Sir Thomas awaited the arrival of his guest of honor for the day, Charles Quincy The best races were in the 70 and 43-foot Adams of Boston.

classes. In the 70-foot class the Weetamoe and Neola made a hot fight and easily distanced the older boats, Eelin and Isolde. These yachts sailed twice around a fifteen-mile triangle, having a run on the first leg. a beat on the second and a close reach on the third. The Weetamoe made a pretty start and on the first round gained a lead of a minutes 35 seconds on the Neola. On the second round Mr. Pynchon took the wheel on the Neola and she did much better. The Weetamoe won, and she now has three legs for the Adams prize. In a special race the Eelin won from the Isolde very easily.

The chief attraction in the 43-foot class was the race between the Aspirant and the Mimosa 11. Starting off. the Mimosa took a big lead and increased that lead on every leg of the first round, so that at the mark she was 2 minutes 5 seconds ahead of the Aspirant. On the run to the first mark on the second round the Aspirant's sails were stretched out and set up better. They are new and do not fit at all well yet. The Aspirant gave a remarkable exhibition of salling and is one of the fastest boats of her size seen this season.

The Effort won the regular class for 45-footers, and the Mira won a match race. In the 33-foot class the Anoatok sailed away from the others, and in the yaw'd class John Hyslop's yawl defeated the Sakana. Three of the C. F. Hereshoff 25-footers, started. before the wind and nipped the Mimosa at the mark, turning inside that boat. On the windward leg the Aspirant outpointed and outsailed the Mimosa, and she was 3 minutes 5s seconds ahead at the finish of the race. This boat is doing some remarkable sailing and is one of the fastest boats of her size seen this season.

The Effort won the regular class for 43-footers, and the Mira won a match race. In the 36-foot class the Anoatok sailed away from the others, and in the yawl class John Hyslop's yawl defeated the Sakana. Three of the C.E. Berreshoff 25-footers started.

further racing for the week has been suspended.

The challenger's bottom was already so had that it was the intention to take her to Erie Basin next Saturday; but Mr. Fife, in view of yesterday's race, would have it attended to without further delay. The grasses from the Shrewbury River are the worst offenders. Racing will be resumed on Monday next. The visit of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick, which was to have taken place to-day, has been postponed for a week.

DELEHANTY MAY BE DEAD. His Body Believed to Be in the Niagara

River-Mother Fears Foul Play. WASHINGTON, July 8.—Edward J. Dele-banty, the rightfielder of the Washington Baseball Club, is believed to be dead and his body is thought to be in the Niagara River, near Fort Erie, Ontario. A letter was re-ceived by Manager Loftus last night that some personal effects corresponding with those of the missing player were found in a Pullman from which he was ejected, and that later in the evening of July 2 Delehanty was seen on the International Bridge, and that he either fell or jumped from the structure to the river. Whether he was murdered, committed suicide or fell off is not known, but Loftus and Secretary Hewett believe this person was the missing Delehanty.

pany, this morning made a statement expressing his conviction that the man who fell from the bridge was Delehanty. Mr. Bennett's belief is founded on his examination of the contents of the hand bag and suit case left on the train by the man. Mr. Bennett said:

"I found in the valise a season pass to the Washington Baseball Park made out in the name of Ed Delehanty. I found in the suit case clothes with Delehanty's name on them, also the name of the tailor in Washington who made them. There was a pair of baseball shoes in the satchel. I wrote at once to the tailor in Washington and learned the address of Delehanty's family. I wrote Delehanty's wife in Washington on receipt of this information, telling her of the circumstances, and telling her I believed her husband was drowned off the bridge last Thursday night."

CLEVELAND, July 8.—The disappearance

Thursday night."

CLEVELAND, July 8.—The disappearance of Delehanty is causing his mother, who resides in this city, much worriment. Mrs. Delehanty, who was with her son in Detroit on the day he disappeared, said:

"Ed has not committed suicide: I am sure of that; but I do fear he has met with foul play, as when he left me he had considerable money and $1,500 worth of diamonds on his person. When he left me at Detroit he said he was going back to the hotel to get ready to accompany the team to Washington."

The feature of the game to-day was the batting of N. Z. Graves. The young Germantown representative played all the bowling with the utmost confidence, hit vigorously and well and had the distinction of avering a "century" with a relandation. vigorously and well and had the distinction of scoring a "century" with a splendid innings of 103, not out. He gave but one chance—when he was 19—and after that he settled down to confident play. F. C. Sharpless lost his wicket with an addition of only two runs to his overnight score, but R. D. Brown followed his mode of play in being satisfied to allow Graves to make the runs while he held up his wicket. The pair succeeded in putting on the winning run before another wicket fell.

The visitors left here to-night for Coventry, where they will play Warwickshire tomorrow.

the guest of Commodore Tod of the Atlantic Yacht Club, was astir early yesterday morning, and signals were sent up for the Sharm ing, and signals were sent up for the Shamrocks directly after breakfast to make ready for the day's work. Mainsails were club topsails sent aloft by 9 o'clock, and | tee shots, requiring a 6 for the seventh and 7 on the short sixteenth from this cause, the full card reading:

The others with this total were Wheeler, Hewes, Martin, Bryan and Tyler, the group representing every corner of the Nutmeg State. Every one trooped out to see the play off, for which the players were summoned before the match play drawings in the afternoon.

The hole is 358 yards and a par 4. Hewes and Wheeler were in trouble after their drives. while Seely made the green on his second, using a mashie after having outdriven the party, the other three being short. All had long tries for a 4. Seely having the nearest at about seven feet, after having made a mess of his approach put. Brynn rimmed on his try, none of the others doing as well, and then t was Seely's turn. He made a very strong put, after having studied the line with care, and the ball darted to the hole like a woodchuck to its burrow. There was a cheer from the crowd circled about the green, for everybody wanted to see Seely qualify to defend the title.

The course was in fine order, Shiels having the putting greens true and fast, and, as the first hole had been lengthened out thirty and the fourteenth twenty, the full round was 5,610 yards. The order of holes was:

The amateur record is 73, held by Roger H. White, 2d, who led the field for a long while yesterday With 79. He took 41 out, but came home in 4, 4, 3, 6, 3, 4, 3, 4, 7-38. Roy C. Carroll, who won the score medal when the cham-pionship was played over the same links two years ago, later took the lead by cutting this a stroke. Considering the bad second and Joe D. Forbes the Wrenn brothers at hole, the outward journey was extremely good, being 4, 7, 3, 4, 4, 5, 4, 3, 4—38. The low score medal was finally won by Radcliffe Spratt, a junior player from Brooklawn, who surprised everybody by his good showing. The card was:

believe this person was the missing Delehanty.

At noon yesterday Elmer Bates of the Cleveland Press received a telegram from his paper that Delehanty had purchased a ticket in Detroit for New York city and took the Michigan Central train on July 2. This train left Detroit at 445 o'clock that day and was due at Buffalo at 9 o'clock the same evening. According to this letter, Delehanty engaged in an altercation with the conductor of the train and was ejected at Fort Erie. Delehanty probably wanted to reach Buffalo, and attempted to walk over the bridge.

BUFFALO, July 8.—J. K. Bennett, local superintendent of the Pullman Car Company, this morning made a statement expressing his conviction that the man who fell from the bridge was Delehanty. Mr. Bennett's belief is founded on his examina.

Brooklawn, 50, 60—110.

The draw brought out two fairly well-balanced halves, Seeley being in the strongest end J. P. Cheney, the first champion of the league, and Hard gained the consolation set after a tie at 90. The officers of the league in attendance were Amos F. Barnes, W. E. Seeley, Jr. W. P. Bryan and S. B. Page. They were aided by a committee of the New Haven Country Club, with C. H. Zimmermann as chairman. The match play brought the defeat of Sprott, who could not hold his great-going of the medal round, and Alsop, who is on the Yale team, was put out after a nineteenhole match by young Graham, the boy who made such a strong bid against Travis at the Knollwood tournament. Seeley was on his best game and won his match very easily, and White also played very well.

Championship—First round—Davis beat Sprott.

In a friendly match at the Englewood Golf Club vesterday between A. B. Cobb of Boston and W. E. F. Moore the former made the seventeenth hole, of 160 yards, in one. Moore, who holed from off the green with his mashey, had a two. The incident recalls one at the Palmetto Golf Club four years ago, when A. H. Fenn, conceding odds of a stroke a hole, made a short hole in one, while his opponent yet it in two and secured a half in ponent got it in two and secured a half in the odds.

Baseball Notes.

Umpire Sheridan, who punched Green of the Chicagos on Tucsday, was discharged yesterday morning when his case came up in court. Green called Sheridan the vilest names conceivable and this was why Sheridan went for him. "Sheridan." said Manager McAleer of St. Louis yesterday. "Is the best umpire we have."

LAWN TENNIS.

Wrenn Brothers and Ward and Ware Win at Westchester.

The invitation lawn tennis tournament of the Westchester Country Club was continued yesterday. The Wrenn brothers and Ward and Ware were the winning teams in doubles with each match won in straight sets. In their match with Stephen C. Millett once assumed the lead and the result was never in doubt. The Wrenns are playing better tennis daily, and are strong favorites for first honors in this week's tourney. They have now a clear score of wins and no defeats. They meet Ward and Ware on Saturday. The result of this match should settle the selection of the team to meet the Englishmen.

In the other match the Western pair, Collins and Waidner, appeared a trifle outclassed. The best they could do was four games out of the three sets played, the second set going to Ware and Ward at love. The latter team played well together and seldom made a poor stroke. They killed the ball frequently at the net, their opponents rarely scoring on a pass. Besides the team play matches an exhibition

Besides the team play matches an exhibition contest between Malcolm D. Whitman, the ex-champion, and William A. Larned, the champion, took place. This match was unfinished, with the score favoring Whitman, 8-2, 2-2. The ex-champion played in fast form. Larned falled to put up his usual brilliant game and lost points on wild plays. The match will be finished later. Round Robin Men's Doubles—George L. Wrenn, Jr., and Robert D. Wrenn defeated Stephen C. Millett and J. D. Forbes, 6-1, 6-1, 8-6; Holcombe Ward and Leo E. Ware defeated Creigh Collins and L. A. Waldner, 6-2, 6-0, 6-2. and L. A. Waldner, 6-2, 6-0, 6-2.

The Morristown Field Club has finished its club tournament at Morristown, N. J. In the junior singles first honors went to Neil Stevens, who defeated McConnell in the final round 6-2, 6-4, 6-2. This event is in competition for the Cole cup, offered for the first time this year. This trophy must be won three times before it can be awarded. First place in ladies singles was won by Miss Behr. She had little trouble in winning from Miss Voorhees, in the finals, 6-3, 6-2. Karl Behr took the honors in men's singles from L. S. Freeman, 6-1, 8-6, 6-3. This match afforded the best exhibition of the game seen this year. Behr showed great speed and accuracy, especially in ground strokes from back court.
